EXAMINER'S ACTION

Art Unit: 3739

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 6-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Spears et al in combination with Narciso, Jr. Spears teaches a device as claimed except the use of a perfusion channel and lumen diameter. Narciso, Jr. teaches a device as claimed except the specific recitation that the fibers are removable and the lumen diameter. It would have been obvious to the artisan of ordinary skill to employ perfusion in the device of Spears et al, since this prevents tissue damage down stream of the treatment or alternatively to employ the manifestly insertable fiber of Spears et al in the device of Narciso, Jr., since Narciso Jr. discusses no attachment of the fibers, and the catheter absent the fibers would be more flexible and thus more easily positioned, and in either case to employ a lumen in the claimed range, since this is an appropriate size to accommodate a guide wire and solves no particular problem in the art, thus producing a device such as claimed.

Claims 1 and 3-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Spears et al in combination with Narciso Jr. The teachings of Narciso, Jr. and Spears et al and the motivation for combination and modification thereof are essentially those already set forth regarding claims 6-9. Thus it would have been obvious to the artisan of ordinary skill to combine these old and well known teachings to produce a method such as claimed.

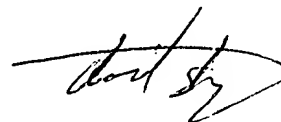

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Spears et al in combination with Narciso, Jr. as applied to claims 1 and 3-5 are above, and further in view of Chen et al. Chen et al teach the use of e.g. hematoporphyrin derivative as a photodynamic therapy compound. It would have been obvious to the artisan of ordinary skill to employ hematoporphyrin derivative in the combined method of Narciso, Jr. and Spears et al, since the method of Narciso, Jr. is dependant on no particular compound and since this compound is widely known for its efficacy in PDT, thus producing a method such as claimed.

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-9 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
